LUTHERAN SUMMER MUSIC
1 July 2001

Michelangelo Buonarroti, The Creation of Adam, detail
Through the centuries, the creative and healing power of God has been represented through gestures of the human hand and fingers. Beginning in the early Christian catacombs, frescoes showed God touching and healing through Jesus. During the Renaissance, Michaelangelo dared to symbolize God's "human hand gesture" bringing humanity into being.

Thomas Moran, Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone

Yosemite valley, the world's first nature preserve, was set aside a state park in 1864, after the great groves of redwoods and sequoias were felled in California. The establishment of Yellowstone National Park followed in 1872, the year this painting was completed. In this painting the artist and his fellow explorers are reduced to insignificance by the eroded cliffs and giant trees. Many places, like Yosemite, were protected because of the encouragement of John Muir (1838-1914).

Evening Prayer
Lutheran Summer Music
2 July 2001

When despair for the world grows in me
and I wake in the night at the least sound in fear of what my life and my children's lives may be,
I go and lie down where the wood drake rests in his beauty on the water,
and the great heron feeds.
I come into the peace of wild things
who do not tax their lives with forethought of grief.
I come into the presence of still water.
And I feel above me the day-blind stars waiting for their light.
For a time
I rest in the grace of the world, and I am free.

Thou art rest and gentle peace,
Thou art longing, and that which stills it.
I consecrate to thee, with my joys and griefs.
As thy dwelling-place, my eyes and heart.

Enter into me and close thou
The gates softly behind thee:
Drive other griefs from this breast,
Let this heart be filled with thy joys.

My world of sight thy radiance
Alone can illuminate. O, fill it to the full!

Tony Da, Symbols of the Southwest

In this painting, Tony Da, a member of the San Ildefonso Pueblo tribe, interprets the theme of interconnected harmonies. Here, man and woman, bird and animal are abstractly defined and unified within one space. Inspired by ancient Navajo sand paintings, prehistoric pottery and fabric designs, the artist fuses past and present styles of art and beliefs to celebrate God's continual creating, or as the wiseman Black Elk described, the community of all living things.

How wonderful, O Lord, are the works of your hands!
The heavens declare Your glory,
the arch of the sky displays Your handiwork.
In Your love You have given us the power to behold the beauty of Your world
robed in all its splendor.
The sun and the stars, the valleys and hills,
the rivers and lakes all disclose Your presence.
The roaring breakers of the sea tell of Your awesome might;
the beasts of the field and the birds of the air
bespeak Your wondrous will.
In Your goodness You have made us able to hear
the music of the world.
The voices of loved ones
reveal to us that You are in our midst.
A divine voice sings through all creation.

“Make a joyful noise unto the Lord” Michael Head

Karen Wilkerson, soprano Carol Henderson, piano

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands.

Serve the Lord with gladness.

Come before his presence with singing.

Know ye that the Lord, he is God.

It is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves.

We are his people and the sheep of his pasture.

Enter into his gates with thanksgiving,

And into his courts with praise.

Be thankful unto him and bless his name.

For the Lord is good.

His mercy is everlasting,

And his truth endureth to all generations.

Emil Nolde, Prophet

EVENING PRAYER
5 July 2001

The prophets had no theory or "idea" of God . . . To the prophets, God was overwhelmingly real and shatteringly present . . . They lived as witnesses stirred by the words of God, rather than as explorers engaged in a effort to ascertain the nature of God; their utterances were the unloading of a burden rather than glimpses obtained in the fog of yearning.

All earth, shout with joy to God!
Sing the glory of the Name!
Give glorious praise!
Say, "How awesome your works!"

All earth bows before you,
sings to you, sings to your name.
Come, see God's wonders,
tremendous deeds for the people.

God turned sea into land,
they crossed the river on foot.
Let us rejoice then in God,
who rules for ever with might.

Come, listen, all who fear God,
as I tell what happened to me.
Bless God who did listen,
heeded the sound of my prayer.
