Bearing Fruit and Growing in the Whole World

The hymn festival this evening reflects the themes found in the scripture lessons this sixth week after Pentecost. In the Old Testament lesson God speaks of the relationship between living with God's commands and experiencing the fruits of God's physical creation. In the New Testament letter to the Colossians, Paul connects bearing fruit to the disciple who hears the good news of the gospel. In all of these lessons, we hear God's concern for the good and stewardly use of all the gifts of creation.

Choral Call to Praise Let All the World Daniel Kallman

Let all the world in ev'ry corner sing, My God and King.
The heav'ns are not too high, God's praise may thither fly:
The earth is not too low, God's praises there may grow.
The Church with Psalms must shout,
No door can keep them out:
But above all, the heart must bear the longest part.

- George Herbert

Welcome and Invocation

L: We gather to praise the God who crafted the whole of creation, yet who can be neither contained by its expanse nor fully described by its beauty and majesty.

C: We gather to praise the God who gave birth to our entire human family, who brought us into being, in all our diversity,
as bearers of the divine image.

L: We gather to praise the God who inhabits every second through all eternity, who animates us with the breath of Spirit and inspires us with the call to serve in Christ's name.

C: We gather to praise the God who bids us build a healthy global home filled with justice and peace, who equips us with a capacity for mercy and compassion.
 We gather this evening as God's people, brothers and sisters to one another, proclaimers of good news in every time and place.

For the Beauty of the Earth

DIX

For Stanzas 2 & 4 the Choir will sing a Chinese folk tune "Mol-li-hua."

All 1 For the beau - ty of the earth, For the beau - ty of the skies, Choir 2 For the won - der of each hour Of the day and of the night,
 All 3 For the joy of ear and eye, For the heart and mind's de - light, Choir 4 For the joy of hu - man love, Broth - er, sis - ter, par - ent, child,

For the love which from our birth O - ver and a - round us lies:
 Hill and vale and tree and flow'r, Sun and moon and stars of light:
 For the mys - tic har - mo - ny Link - ing sense to sound and sight:
 Friends on earth and friends a - bove; For all gen - tle thoughts and mild:

Refrain
 Christ, our Lord, to you we raise This our sac - ri - fice of praise.

All 5 For yourself, best gift divine
 To the world so freely giv'n;
 Agent of God's grand design,
 Peace on earth and joy in heav'n: Refrain

Julian of Norwich

Be a gardener
Dig a ditch
Toil and sweat
And turn the earth upside down
And seek the deepness
And water the plants in time
Continue this labor
And make sweet floods to run
And noble and abundant fruits to spring
Take this food and drink
And carry it to God
As your true worship

Lord, Your Hands Have Formed This World

GAYOM NI HIGAM

The Choir will sing the hymn. Then the congregation will join the choir in repeating the first stanza.

John So

To be of the Earth is to know
The restlessness of being a seed
The darkness of being planted
The struggle toward the light
The pain of growth into the light

The joy of bursting and bearing fruit
 The love of being food for someone
 The scattering of your seeds
 The decay of the seasons
 The mystery of death
 And the miracle of birth

A Prayer for Summertime Earth

O God, we delight in your summers: your warming sun and your balmy night air. We take pleasure in your summertime earth. God, sometimes we use the world as if it were just another disposable product. Sometimes we ignore our debts to your plane and pretend that there will never be a day of reckoning. Sometimes we think we can get anything we need at our local discount store. Sometimes we even think the world belongs to us.

(Silence for confession)

We delight in your summertime earth, God. Teach us to live in it reverently. Teach us the miracle of this place. Amen.

The Body

Simeí Monteiro, Brazil

You gave us this body that is your temple.
 We don't want to destroy it.
 It is good to feel it free, like this without bonds or wounds.
 You gave us this body as an example of harmony and of beauty; don't let us turn it into a reason for sadness, but let us express with joy your spirit and the gift of life.
 You gave us this body that perceives the caresses of tenderness, that knows how to speak with gestures expressing its desires.
 You gave us this body that unites reason with feelings; don't let us make it a prisoner of a mistake but in everything glorify and consecrate the Creator.
 You gave us this body for life.
 We don't want it for death but hunger and malnutrition reduce it to misery.
 You gave us this body for glory and perfect plenitude, don't let it become a negation of humanity
 but in Christ restored, reveals us your image.

Choral Anthem

Beloved, God's Chosen Michael Hassell

Beloved, God's chosen, put on as a garment compassion, forgiveness, and goodness of heart.
 Above all, before all, let love be your raiment that binds into one every dissonant part.
 Within, call forth Wisdom, to dwell in you richly: let peace rule your hearts, and that peace be of Christ.
 And from the heart's chamber, beloved and holy, let singing, thanksgiving to God ever rise.

Sowing the seed,
my hand is one with the earth.
Wanting the seed to grow,
my mind is one with the light.
Hoing the crop,
my hands are one with the rain.
Having cared for the plants,
my mind is one with the air.
Hungry and trusting,
my mind is one with the earth.
Eating the fruit,
my body is one with the earth.

we thank you God for most this amazing day for the leading greenly spirits of trees and a blue true dream of sky and for everything which is natural which is infinite which is yes

I who have died am alive again today and this is the sun's birthday this is the birth of life and love and wings and of the gay great happening illimitably earth

how should tasting touching hearing seeing breathing any lifted from the no of all nothing human merely being doubt unimaginable you?

now the ears of my ears awake and now the eyes of my eyes are opened.

A Litany

based on Deuteronomy 30

L: The Word of God is near us.

C: The Reign of God is at hand.

L: Daily, daily it draws closer.

C: Yet its movement is very slow.

L: So slow we often lose sight of it;

C: Our hope falters.

L: Let us place our hope in God.

C: Let us commit ourselves to God's work – Then shall we see the new day.
