Festival of Hymns

14 July 2003

Celebrant Tim Lowry

*When I was a child,
the Easter Vigil was a profound event for me.
I didn't know what was going on,
but I know they were doing everything I liked.*

*They were playing with fire.
They were playing with water.
They were singing things I didn't understand.
The pastor was blowing on the water, and then,
splashing the water on the people!*

*The air was full of smoke.
It was dark and it was scary.
It was everything that I loved.*

Choir stanza

The flow'r of earthly splendor in time must surely die,
its fragile bloom surrender to you, the Lord most high;
but hidden from all nature the eternal seed is sown –
though small in mortal stature, to heaven's garden grown:
for Christ the man from heaven from death has set us free,
and we through him are given the final victory.

Women Arriving at the Tomb He Qi

Dearest brothers and sisters,
we keep an Easter vigil,
to recall that our Lord was buried.

During his short sleep we celebrate a vigil,
so that he will keep watch for us and,
when we are raised,
we can abide untired for the eternal vigil.
On this night he also rose;
our hope keeps watch for his resurrection.

This is our greatest vigil and no other vigil
of similar proportions is known.
Our hearts are enlightened, just as our eyes rejoice
at this splendor of lighted candles,
and so our mind may be enlightened and shed light on the meaning of this resplendent night.

Augustine, fifth century

We ask that all members of the audience refrain from photographing or recording the performance. Please be sure that all cell phones, beepers, alarms, and similar devices are turned off.
